

ADCANP Board Welcomes the New Executive Director

Sallye Longshore

Sara (Sallye) R. Longshore is the newly appointed Executive Director of the Alabama Department of Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention (ADCANP), also known as the Children's Trust Fund. In this position, Ms. Longshore oversees the management of the state agency and directs the operations to secure resources to fund evidence-based community programs committed to the prevention of child maltreatment. Prior to joining ADCANP, Ms. Longshore served as an Education Administrator in the Federal Programs Section of the Office of Learning Support in the Alabama State Department of Education. Ms. Longshore has an extensive background in early childhood education, family services and program management. She has previously held positions as Regional In-service Center Director at the University of Montevallo and co-project director of the Alabama Child Care Consortium with UAB's Civitan International Research Center. Ms. Longshore earned a Bachelor's degree in Child Development and a Master's degree in Human Development and Family Life from the University of Alabama and an Educational Specialist degree in Early Childhood Education from the University of Alabama at Birmingham. She is married and the mother of six grown children.